TELECOM SUPPLY

Quality Assured

South Korea has earned a well-deserved reputation for quality and innovation in the electronic, automobile, and appliance industries. Now Taihan FiberOptics is extending that same level of quality and expertise to the production of fiber optic cable.

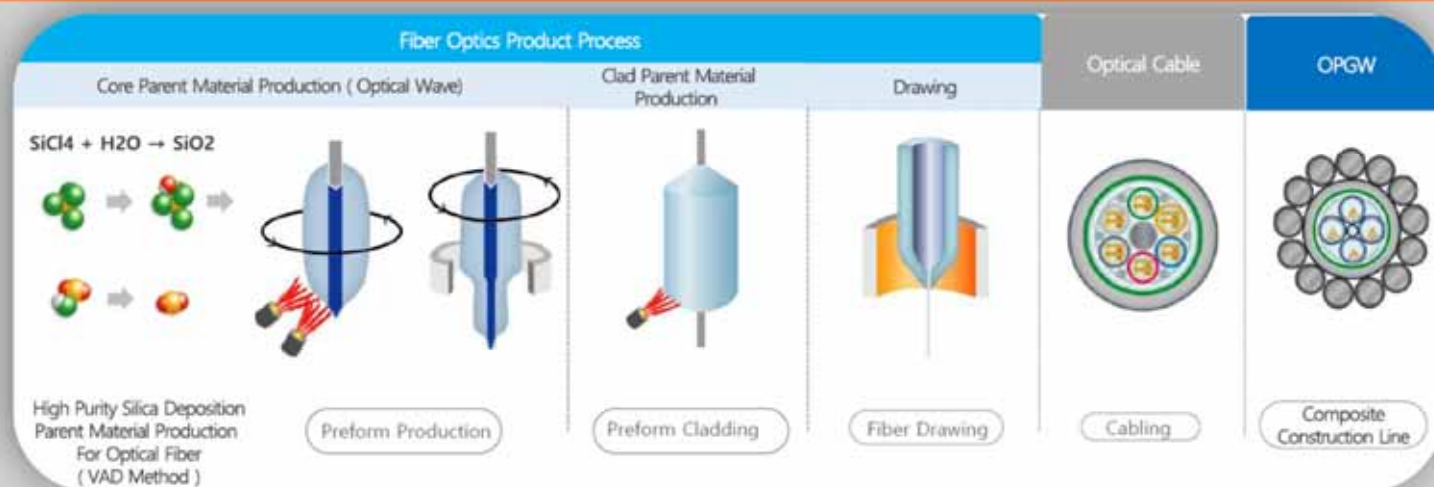

US Distributors of

Taihan

FIBER OPTICS

Taihan is the only South Korean manufacturer that controls FO cable manufacturing end to end: producing their own glass preforms, drawing fiber and cabling fiber.

NovaLight worked directly with Taihan to develop their program for the US Market, including the MDPE jacket, softer PP buffer tubes and dual ripcords.

NovaLight is receiving monthly shipments of cable from Taihan and is currently stocking these Taihan cables in armored and non-armored configurations:

- 24 Fibers
- 48 Fibers
- 72 Fibers
- 96 Fibers
- 144 Fibers
- 288 Fibers

[Three-year warranty]

Taihan produces a full line of fiber optic cable constructions including rollable ribbon.
